Guides Are Needed For Dedication Week

Guides to conduct tours through the campus and hostesses for two receptions are needed for Dedication Week ceremonies, according to Bob Horn, ASSFSC president.

Visitors to the campus will include hundreds of high school seniors on-campus during high school senior day. Interested students may sign up for either of the positions in the Associated Students' Business Office, Hut T-1.

Frosh Orientation Led by Poquette

More than 1600 new students, including more than 800 freshmen, were oriented to life at San Francisco State College, as the Orientation program held sway over the campus Monday, September 13.

Headed by George Poquette, orientation included a general assembly, a campus tour and advising sessions for the new students. On-campus activities were supplemented by Frosh camp which hosted 165 Freshmen September 8-10.

Working under General Chairman Poquette, Director Hal Spady and Assistant Director Bob Riedel led a crew of student advisors who guided the incoming group through their first day at S. F. State.

Poquette will retire this year after serving three and one-years as the program chairman.

The orientation activities gave way to a "Night of Fun," under the direction of Activities Commissioner Karl Knuth.

Orientation was inaugurated to aid the new students in adjusting themselves to the campus.

Material Fees Raised This Fall

Materials fees have been upped this Fall to incorporate all incidental and miscellaneous administrative charges into one registration fee.

Tuition remains the same as last semester. The materials fee will now include such incidental fees as the $3.00 placement fee and the $2.00 official evaluation and record fee for non-matriculated (non - registered) students.

In effect, College Business Manager Harry Brakebill declared, the total service charge has been raised to allow all administrative fees to be paid at registration time by the entire student body.

The move was necessitated by interests of administrative

The Creative Arts

.... By ROBERT M. KLANG

S. F. State's Music Department, with an ambitious schedthe of planned activities for the coming two semesters. should have one of the best years in its history.

There are two things which, although they are not the only reasons, allow us to make such a bold prediction. First, some very important departmental changes have been made. Second, the above-mentioned ambitious schedule itself.

NEW ORCHESTRA DIRECTOR

Heading the list of changes is the taking over of the directorship of State's orchestra by Earl Bernard Murray, prominent Bay Area musician and assistant conductor of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra. Mr. Murray has done exceptionally fine work with the Symphony, especially in his direction of the ensemble's children's concerts. It is hoped that Mr. Murray will be able to help the State orchestra rid itself of many of its too-long-had problems—a job we feel has been in need of doing for quite a long time.

To assist Earl Murray in his work with the orchestra will be another addition to the Music Department's staff: John Ray, the well-known string teacher. Since much of the State orchestra's troubles have been in the string sections, Mr. Ray's assistance should be greatly appreciated by the new conductor, as well as by the department in general.

MR. KRUTH TAKES ON INSTRUMENTS

Another important change in the department is the putting in charge of all instrumental work Edwin C. Kruth, associate professor of music and director of the S. F. State Symphonic Band, the music group to which these columns gave top honors last school year. This centralizing will allow the department to maintain a highly co-ordinated and, generally, a much more effective program of instrumental activities.

The presence of a new music group will also be something diferent in the department this year. The new group will be the S. F. State Madrigal Singers. Composed of people who are now singing with other State choruses and choirs and other interested and talented individuals, the group will sing beside the lyric music after which the group is named, many kinds of folk music. The Madrigal Singers already have two concert dates set: February 23 and May 13.

CHORAL PERFORMANCES

This year's Music Department schedule includes, along with one or more concerts by each of the organized music groups, several special performances which will take place both on and off campus. John C. Tegnell's A Capella Choir, as we glance at its fall and winter schedule, seems to have the edge on the other organizations as far as special performances are concerned.

Sixteen male members of the choir will sing much of the chorus parts in the San Francisco Opera Company's performance of Wagner's "The Flying Dutchman" this opera season. And during the symphony season at the Opera House the entire A Capella will perform with the S. F. Sympony Orchestra in Berlioz's "Childhood of Christ..'

In other work with S. F. Symphony people the choir will give a concert with the S. F. Brass Ensemble, which is composed of members of the S. F. Symphony and under the direction of Orlando Giosi. (This concert will be held on campus.)

Also heading the list of special programs this year will be the Opera Workshop's presentation of a full opera: Massenet's "Manon." Never before have State students tried to turn out such a large opera production, so next April 15-16 may prove to be very important dates as far as State operatic work is concerned.

And with the presenting of many other performances by both State students and guest musicians and the sending of State music groups on tours to various places in Northern and Central California, we are sure the Music Department will have, besides an extremely busy year, a very successful one.

College Union Food Prices Reduced for Fall Semester

By the iron laws of American economy, the College Union Food prices were reduced in several staple food items, it was recently announced.

Hamburger prices were slashed as much as 28.3 per cent from the old figures; milk prices dropped from 12 to 10 cents for the half pints and from 20 to 16 cents for pints; and the cold sandwiches have been lowered five cents each.

The new hamburger prices are, respectively: 25 cents for burger on a bun; 30 cents for burger on French bread; burger in basket, 40 cents; and cheeseburgers now sell for 30 cents.

As Mrs. Erna Lehan, manager of the food service on campus, pointed out, reductions in overhead, a unified campus, and fluctuations in the economy operate to effect a reduction in cafeteria prices.

All responsible officials concerned with the Food Service express a desire to give the students good, clean, wholesome food for a reasonable price.

However, the expenses involved in the transfer from the old to the new campus, last year's running of two separate restaurants, and labor costs, are factors which the law of economics, not personal desires, determine.

The Board of Governors of the new Foundation, which has charge of both the Food Service and the Student Book Store, have the final say on all matters pertaining to the cafeteria.

Mrs. Lehan stressed the fact that operating a restaurant and a grocery involved radically different economic elements.

Milk is sold in a grocery; in a restaurant, milk is not only sold, but served with a straw, left on a table, picked up by a waitress, processed, and removed by the collector and disposed of.

All those additional factors up the costs in a cafeteria. Summer students may have noticed that cake, pie, and other pastry costs have jumped from 15 to 20 cents.

This was due to renovations and repairs to the bake shop in the cafeteria, and the added expense of outside supplies of bakery goods. Normal operations should be restored, with a corresponding price drop, within a week, cafeteria officials stated.

Following is a list of some of the prices and foods offered in the Grill Room of the Union illustrating the range of

Model UN Goes Into Action For the 1955 Conferences

By JOHN P. MAXWELL

If you have just one spare hour a day you can become a part of the biggest event yet sponsored by San Francisco State College.

The Fifth Annual Model United Nations Conference will be held here for three days in March, 1955. There are myriad openings for students who wish to assist the Conference Committee in the many preparations necessary to insure the success of this operation.

UCLA was last year's sponsor and they did it up brown complete with a movie star studded banquet. We plan to outdo them by using the many fine facilities available in San Francisco.

The General Assembly is scheduled for the Opera House on Van Ness Ave., with the banquet in the Venetian Room of the Fairmont Hotel.

President Eisenhower will be petitioned as the main speaker with local and civil dignitaries appearing also. Many figures of the entertainment world will be invited to attend.

The entire city of San Francisco is expected to donate its services including the major business firms. First of all we need the backing of the student body and are confident that you won't disappoint.

Freshmen,, Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors, and limited students are asked to join in this mammoth effort to do S. F. State proud.

You can do this by leaving your name, ,address, and phone number with the Associated Students Business Office, in Hut T-1. If you haven't the time at present, leave your name anyhow because more people will be needed in the future as the conference date draws near. You will be called upon then.

Changes Made In On-Campus Parking Areas

Due to an increase in the faculty and staff, and the continuous parking by students in the Parkmerced area, some changes have been made in the parking areas for the college.

In order to meet the parking needs of some 500 faculty and staff members, 248 spaces have been reserved for them. The lot in front of the science building, the library lot and the administration lot will be for the exclusive use of the faculty in the future.

Main areas for student parking will be: either side of 19th avenue, the north side of Holloway avenue, and both sides of Font street, and the lot behind the Education building.

The entrance to the student parking lot is from Lake Merced boulevard.

Horn and Knuth Lead Boards for Student Needs

S. F. State College's Associated Students is in theory the representative organ of the students and the administrative edifice to provide for the student's campus needs.

To achieve these two broad objectives the organization is divided into executive offices, spearheaded by President Bob Horn and Activities Commissioner Karl Knuth, and the policy-forming boards.

Teh major boards include the Board of Directors, ,who are the ultimate governing body of the association; the Board of Control, which presides over financial and budgetary matters; the Board of Publications, which directs campus publications policy, and the Activities Committee, which operates most of the college's extra-curricula activities.

The membership of each of these boards is made up in part of the constitutional executive officers, respectively: President Horn, Vice President Alice Pappas, Treasurer LeVell Holmes, Secretary Ann Marie Olson and Commissioner Karl Knuth.

Along with his executive functions President Horn presides over the meetings of the Board of Directors, which are tentatively scheduled for every Tuesday at four in the afternoon,, Hut T-1.

Three representatives-at-large (from the freshman class) have yet to be elected to fill out the board. However, those representatives included on the board now are Mary Courtney, Bea Lungren. Robin Dempster, Dick Laine and Mike Spencer. In addition there are several ex-officio members who act as spokesmen for certain parts of the campus such as the Golden Gater or the Radio-TV Guild.

The Board of Control will meet on Thursdays at four in the afternoon, it has been tentatively announced. This board is presided over by Treasurer Holmes and includes several appointed members.

Jack Healy, administrator of student affairs, and Bill Spry, business manager, are perennial ex-officio members of nearly all boards, since they are the head of the professional people, who help with associated student affairs. In addition there are several faculty voting members on each board.

The Board of Publications membership has not been officially announced. Keith Pinckney is editor of the Golden Gater and Dale Tussing is business manager of publications.

—M. E. Q.

The east side of Holloway and the Parkmerced area has a two-hour parking limit and cars will be tagged for violation of the limit.

According to Mr. Harry Brakebill, business manager for the college, there will be full-time traffic control men on the entrances to the campus so that traffic can be controlled at all time. At no time will faculty and student cars be permitted on the interior of the campus.

Editorial Policy

It is always a difficult job for people in student activities to return to college and take over the duties of those who went before them. But we of the Golden Gater staff have been working all summer, as have many officers of the Associated Students, in an effort to bring to the fore many of the problems that will confront us during this next academic year.

While the summer staff put out the newspaper, those of us from the incoming fall staff who could spare the time, got together. Working off and on through the summer, and intensively since September 1, we have evolved an editorial policy that we think you, the student who pays for the paper should know about it.

First, ,while we stand firm in the belief that activities on the campus that affect the most students should receive the most publicity in the newspaper, ,we feel that no single student or group of students is too unimportant to merit the attention of the Golden Gater.

Secondly, it is our belief that any news on campus that might be of controversial nature should be printed in a straight-forward manner, with all the pertinent facts reviewed. We plan to work hard to realize that ideal.

Thirdly, we hope to put out a college newspaper that will be of real use on this campus, one that will be interesting and informative at the same time.

These three simple aims can give San Francisco State College a better newspaper if realized. We honestly believe that these ideals can be carried out. We know that this staff can do it.

Karl Knuth Forsees Gala Activity Year at State

A package of events planned by the activities committee of the Associated Students will dynamically unfnold on-campus

The activities committee—80 ASSFSC activities commissioner.

Following the "hectic pace" of this week's "Buddies '54" program, the activities commissioner will interview all those who indicated their interest in the group's plans by the activities commitee's membership sub-committee.

Commissioner Knuth strongly suggested that all students, who along with the Freshman Night signees, wish to fill a position on the activities committee, contact the Associated Students' business office, Hut T-1, between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. today and Friday.

this year, declared Karl Knuth, strong—will carry out the plans of the activities board, which is elected by the commitee.

The sign-ups are for an interview with the membership sub-committee, which will decide on the successful candidates for the 80 vacancies on the full activities committee.

The deadline for sign-ups is Friday at 3 p. m. in the business office, Hut T-1. The major criterion for appiontment to the activities committee is: "experience in having planned and performed in various social activities."

The activities commitee will be the center and coordinator of all associated students activities; the committee will sponsor an event every week, for instance, a Red Cross drive, a lecture series, or drama production inaugural, etc.

But its main purpose will be to provide S. F. State College with the ideas and the people for all campus activities.

Outstanding chairmanships are open to any student, who is qualified and interested. They include:

Rally Commissioner—in charge of rallies for games and off-campus shows among other things

Poster Committee Chairman —in charge of advertising art work.

Homecoming Chairman — in charge of all the committees and activities of Homecoming Week, including the coronation ball, bonfire rallies, etc.

Chairman of Half-Time Affairs—directs all football and other sports entertainment and rallies between halves at games.

Yell Leaders for Fall Semester

The complete line-up on this Fall's football song and yell leaders includes: Doris Finkelstein, Lorraine Maison, Dona Salsa, Adrienne Ayers, Rita Zydonis and Barbara Swanson all girls and all song leaders. Mike Mahan, Yvonne Casassa, Carole Spady, Joan Peterson, Rachelle E. Reyes and Head Yell Leader Ralph Kermoian—all yell leaders.

These people will lead the rooters at the S. F. State football games and other extra-curricular events.

Coach Joe Verducci, the Little Professor of San Francisco State, may be blessed this year with the finest, deepest, most explosive football team yet to grace Cox Field.

As of now, the Mayor of Daly City can field an eleven of 10 letter winners, six of them regulars from last year's squad, and then replace practically every one of them with transfers and service returnees. without losing one iota of strength.

The 1952-53 team, generally considered to be the most explosive eleven in Gator history, may seem like a firecracker trying to outdo a bomb compared to this 1954 squad.

Of course, this will be no dream team. A few injuries to key men in the line could spell disaster. The same holds true for the backfield, despite its depth. Perhaps a little more heft all around would help, but then, when doesn't it? Taken as a whole, however, this Gator team will make trouble for any adversary on its schedule.

Although the magnificent Maury Duncan, two time All-Coast quarterback, holder of virtually all Gator passing marks, and one of the finest performers in all State history, is gone, things will be far from glum in the QB slot. Dick Ellis, 185, former All-City prep while at Poly High in this city, and just out of the Marines where he hung up a fine service football record, is ready to take the reins.

At a comparable sophomore stage, Ellis rates even with Duncan in Verducci's rankings. The slick ball handling, accurate passing southpaw may be pressed by Ray Vallejo (180), transfer from Contra Costa East.

TALENTED HALFBACKS

As it looks now, the halfback positions are loaded with talent. Harry Bremmond, (160). three-year varsity man and last years' leading ground gainer, is back at his old post, as is Dick Nave (165), runner-up ground gainer in '52 and third last year despite an injury which kept him out in early season.

Both of these boys, however outstanding, could be "wiped out" by Jim Boggan ((200), an All-Nothern California prep while at Willows, and former USF star, just out of service—and Rudy Larisch (215), a speedster despite his heft, and former Arizona State of Flagstaff man, just back after two years of playing time at Hamilton Field.

Another speedster who can't be counted out is junior Walt Bremmond (155,) brother of Harry, who could be used in spots and is capable of going all the way.

At the moment, senior Walt Gomez (185), who shared fullback honors last year with returning Butch Storm and the now-departed Jim McElroy, seems to have the inside edge. But he may have to make room for Bob Rodrigo, an All-Northern California star while at Vallejo high, a St. Mary's frosh standout, and all-service selection in the European theater last season, where he scored 14 touchdowns.

ENDS A-PLENTY

The ends are well fortified, despite the loss of an end, Tom Evans, who never donned a S. F. State uniform. Evans, former Loyola starter and service standout, ruined his eligibility when he tried out with the Los Angeles Rams earlier this season.

But who's worrying? Last year's record-breaking, Little All-Coast end George Wehner (190), just as good a blocker and defensive man as he is a pass receiver, is back to continue his assault on Gator marks.

Senior Tony Fardella (185), another vet who specializes in defense, will have to hustle in order to keep Dick Galliani (190), a service and City College vet, out of his hair. Another newcomer, Bob Barron (190), just out of the Marine Corps and formerly of Menlo JC, will also cause trouble.

TACKLES, TOO

The tackle spots should be well fortified. Returning regulars, Dan Logue (225) and Roy Nonella (205)), who also doubled as a guard, are a couple of tough juniors. They hope to make Gator fans forget Big Bob Foote, one of last year's outstanding small college linemen on the coast.

This duo is no cinch, however, Dick O'Keefe (220), West Contra Costa and Quantico Marines linebacker may oust either Logue or Nonella. Jack Allain (270)), a strong six-foot-eight transfer from San Mateo JC, could team up with O'Keefe, if he overcomes his bum knee.

Tough, agile Jesse Jones (180), one of the outstanding Gator linemen for the past two years, is back for his last call at left guard. Bill Rudometkin (200) and Bob Dreyer (190) saw enough action last season to be tough. But these three will have to fight it out with a newcomer, Mike Paige (210), transfer from Menlo JC.

Last year's regular center, Jerry Conover (190), a junior, will have a tough battle with Tony Pellegrini (200), former All-America honorable mention at Martinez High, transferring in from Contra Costa East.

Yes, this could be the year.

Ex-Gael Men On State Campus

St. Mary's may have quit football, but the old Moraga spirit still seems to linger on in the form of San Francisco State personnel.

Of course, Head Coach Joe Verducci is an ex-St. Mary's mentor. Junior Varsity Coach Dave Marcelli, once cavorted proudly as a hard-running halfback for a two-year period at St. Mary's

Three of the men hoped to be the main cogs in State's attack this season were all once Gael freshmen; quarterback Dick Ellis, halfback Bob Rodrigo and Little All-Coast champion end George Wehner. George was second best in the Nation among all small colleges last year in passes received (44), touchdown passes caught (8), and passing yardage (719), all new Gator records.

Add to this array the name of end Merrill Jacobs who was near the top in pass receiving (40) among small colleges in the Nation in 1952, and you have upheld the name of St. Mary's proudly. Jacobs also once played end for the Gaels.

Though it's a technicality, let's not forget that another ex-St. Mary's fullback, Bill Bare, once attended State, although he didn't play football. Bare is now a fine linebacker for the Fort Ord Warriors.

Joe Verducci Welcomes New State Athletes

"All freshman and future athletic aspirants should come out for the sport of their choice, now, rather than to wait until later in the season or until next year."

Joe Verducci

This was the opinion voiced by Head Coach Joe Verducci, at a recent practice session. According to Verducci, too many players wait out their freshman and sophomore years, hoping to come out in the future. By the time these athletes show up for the team, it's usually too late.

States' fall sports are football, both varsity and J. V., soccer and water polo. All those interested in any of the three sports should inquire at the coaches' offices in the gymnasium about signing up.

Reports On Sports

The recent "Race of the Century" between Roger Bannister and John Landy, must have reminded many of their favorite mid-summer night's dream. There they were, running in their flossiest underwear before millions of people. It must have been the longest four minutes they ever spent in their lives.

If it weren't for the fact that there was no rabbit escorting the boys around the track, Bannister could have passed for a greyhound running incognito.

Although Landy had the style, Bannister, with his peculiar manner which makes him look like a runaway mop with swim fins, had the kick. Landy not only lost the race but the hide-and-go-seek game played down the stretch, as well. While John was looking for Roger over his left shoulder, old Rog came out of his hiding place and passed on the right. Just as Roger began hollering allie-allie-all-sen-free when he reached the finish line, a cop nabbed him for passing on the wrong side of the street in England. The cop let Roger off Scotfree.

Bannister is now known as the world's second-fastest human at the mile distance, but if England's version of the Thin Man breaks the four-minute "sonic barrier" any more often, he will soon leave the ranks of the present tense, and his "Human" title.

Roger's collapse scene at the end of every race beats anything Edward G. Robinson ever did, including his "Little Caesar" death scene. British Dominion athletes have a real flair for dramatics. From all reports, Jim Peters, the marathon runner who collapsed seven or eight times before he finally reached the wrong finish line, resembled Jimmy Cagney in his famous death scene. The only difference is that Cagney always gets to where he is going, while Peters pulled an un-profitable ad lib.

But if people really knew the inside facts, they wouldn't think Bannister's feat was so amazing. His trainer, an ingenious fellow, rigged a fiendish device in Roger's trunks which causes them to fall down exactly four mintes after the start of the race. Roger has to make it, or else.

Three Lettermen Return To State Wrestling Team

S. F. State's wrestling team was almost pinned by graduation. Only three lettermen will be returning this season. They are: Bill Dorffi, 147 pounds and captain of last year's team; Clair Parsh, 167 pounds, and Bill Schmidt, blind westler at 157 pounds who gained national recognition for himself and the college.

Coach Verducci asks all who are interested in helping the team rebuild to contact him in the gym.

It is our hope that you will enjoy your college days and that you will balance them with an appropriate amount of activities in student body affairs and study for your classes.

State to Present 'King Richard III'

The Drama Department will spend most of its time during the next three or four weeks preparing itself for a two-night run during Dedication Week and a three-night run a week later of Shakespeare's tragedy, "King Richard III."

"Richard" was already given by the Drama Department in July during Summer Session and the three performances were highly praised by Bay Area critics.

This Fall's performances of this gigantic Shakespearean historical drama might prove to be even better than the summer show, for the department wil lhave a more complete staff and larger enrollment in October than it did during Summer Session.

Former All-Time State College Athletic Greats

1931—Ted Goldman, end; scored State's first touchdown in competition.
Ru Stone, halfback; probably State's greatest all-around athlete. Also participated in track, baseball and basketball. First and only State athlete ever to go to Olympics. (Decathlon, 1936.)
Ray Kaufman, end; also good basketball and track man.
1934—Bill Harkness, fullback; first four-year varsity man. Also probably State's first genuine triple threat back.
1938—Chade Reade, halfback; leading scorer in 1938.
1946—Barney Greenberg, halfback; also All-City back while prep at Commerce High in San Francisco.
1948—Dick Tetters, tackle.
Tony Morrow, center.
1950-51—Sam Devito, quarterback; States' first two time Little All-Coast man. Broke virtualy all existing Gator passing marks at that time.
Bob Williamson, tackle; first, and thus far only, Gator Little All-America (1951).
1951-52—Al Endriss, end; first State player ever to go into professional football (San Francisco 49ers, 1952).
John O'Shea, halfback; holds practically every major rushing record at State.
1952-53—Maury Duncan, quarterback; another two time Little All-Coast man. Broke virtually all of Di-Vito's passing records. Always ranked high in national passing and total offense statistics. Named by sports writers as one of seven outstanding players in Northern California last year. Now professional with Green Bay Packers.
1954—George Wehner, end; Little All-Coast last year. Owns all Gator pass receiving records.
